

To whom it may concern,

When my mother was very elderly and housebound, she enjoyed being able to listen to religious programming, including hearing Mass on the weekends. As I approach old age, I would like to be able to do the same thing. If what is currently passing for entertainment, under consolidation, is what will be playing everywhere on TV and radio, I may as well throw my radio and television set on the dump. Thanks for listening.